

Price on the move—again

TONY Price has played his last game for Wycombe Wanderers.

The winger rounded off his time at Wycombe with a hat-trick for the Reserves in the 5-3 win in the Suburban League North Division over Camberley.

It is the second time Price has left Wanderers this season, but this time it appears to be for good. His job has taken him to South London, where he is to live. He feels he cannot travel up to Wycombe for training so he is to be released.

After striking a purple patch towards the end of last year, Price suffered a complete loss of form and has spent over a month out of the first team.

His last first team performance was at Walthamstow Avenue where he scored a goal in the second minute. The following Monday he was suspended for a week, and missed two matches, for his sending off in the F.A. Cup-tie at Worcester.

When Price last decided to leave the club, in October, manager Mike Keen moved in swiftly to buy Ken Wilson from Hounslow as a replacement. But Wilson has spent much of his time playing in the reserves with Price.

It is not clear whether Price will join a club near his new home, or which one it will be.

Tonight (Tuesday), Wycombe travel to near neighbours Chesham United of the Isthmian League Division One. Both clubs are keen to play the match, but The Meadow ground was the venue for last night's F.A. Trophy replay between Aylesbury and Enfield.

So whether the match goes ahead or not will be depend-pitch cuts up. Providing there is not any heavy rain the game should go ahead.

Price . . . last game.

Tony Price scores the first of his three goals, and the first of Wycombe Reserves' five, in the Suburban League North Division win over Camberley on Saturday.

WYCOMBE'S friendly at Isthmian League Division Two side Letchworth on Saturday proved a useful confidence booster to the Blues' strikers, who all found their way onto the scoresheet.

The result, which was little more than expected, was nevertheless encouraging for absent manager Mike Keen. He was watching the reserves and left John Maskell in charge, as well as in goal.

His team knocked the ball around with confidence, and produced some fine moves down the wing which left the young Letchworth side struggling.

The scoring was opened in the 13th minute when Terry Scott headed in a Mick Holifield corner past the Letchworth keeper. Holifield was the next when, in the Letchworth 1, Wycombe 6.

19th minute, he deflected an Howard Kennedy free kick into the net.

Then Gary Toll saw the ball trickle over the line from his mis-hit shot, and before half-time Terry Glynn hammered a shot home after the goalkeeper had failed to hold his first attempt.

Curious

Soon after the break Letchworth, who had former Wycombe centre-back Phil Wood making his debut, scored their solitary goal from the penalty spot. It produced a curious incident when the referee failed to see the ball go over the line. Borg tripped a Letchworth player in the area, and from the spot the ball was driven fiercely, giving Maskell, forced into action by the holidaying Gary Lester and injured Chris Way, no chance.

The ball hit a stanchion behind the goal and rebounded into the arms of Maskell. The referee thought the penalty had been saved, but the linesman saw the ball beat Maskell, and the goal stood.

Despite seeing a lob hit the Wycombe bar, and a chip being cleared off the line by Bob Davies, Letchworth could not add to their score, while Wycombe took their total to six.

Scott added his second with a well taken header from a Kennedy free kick, and Toll grabbed another when he knocked home a Glynn effort not held by the keeper.
